Transitional Object (Example of the wheelbarrow)

Playing involves “not so much the object used as the use of the object”
“Play is a creative activity that occurs in a “potential Space” between an individual’s inner world and external reality”

(Winnicott 1971, Playing and Reality)

AGENCY

‘’Agency – It does not wait for permission to act or to respond yet its purpose can be thwarted by others.”

“…conversely, communication initiative, or agency, leads to self-determination only when others in the environment understand and respond appropriately.”

(Marjorie F. Olney, 2001)
